Women as Well as Men are Made Miserable by Kidney and Bladder Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh, or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also a pamphlet telling all about Swamp-Root.

One of Swamp-Root's letters received from sufferers who found Swamp-Root to be just the remedy needed. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., he sure and mention this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and the address, Binghamton, N. Y., on every bottle.

A CHANGE OF FRONT.

The Patron Got Funny, and the Little Waiter Exploded.

Fire Commissioner Waldo and his secretary, Winifred Sheehan, dropped into Shanley's restaurant one day for dinner. Hickey, the little old waiter, had their table.

"The celery is very fine, commissioner," Hickey remarked.

"Let's see. What'll we have, Winifred?" said the head of the fire department, picking up the menu.

"Some celery?" said Hickey, the waiter, ingratiatingly. "It's the finest, tenderest, crispiest we ever had here."

"No, thanks," said Waldo carelessly. "Bring us some Blue Points on the blue shell. Want any soup, Winifred?"

"Let me have some cream of celery made for ye fresh," urged the waiter.

"Don't think I care for any soup."

"Pick out a couple of nice double English mutton chops," said the fire commissioner.

"And a portion of celery?" asked Hickey, with pencil poised.

"No!" roared Waldo. "No celery."

"Shall we have a salad?" asked Secretary Sheehan.

"Make up a nice celery salad, gentlemen," said the wheedling Hickey.

The fire commissioner rose in his wrath. "Look here, Hickey," he said. "For the last time, no celery. I do not want it raw, baked, broiled or fried. I do not want it as a dessert or a drink, for if you allude to celery tonic you shall be slain where you stand. You've done your duty and tried to get us to take celery by entreaty, threat and force. If you ask me to have the national flower of Kalamazoo again I'll hit you in the nose!"

Hickey mumbled something under his breath and went up stage. He served the ordered items with silent alacrity and then, after the coffee and the check, kept at a respectful distance.

At this juncture Shanley, the proprietor, came by and greeted the fire commissioner and his secretary.

"Look here, Mr. Shanley," said the big commissioner grimly. "We've been coming here a good many years."

"Why, Mr. Commissioner, is there anything wrong?" asked Mr. Shanley quickly.

"Wrong?" roared the fire commissioner. "Wrong? I should say there was! Will you tell me why a customer of this place can't get any celery?"

"Mr. Butler! Mr. Kane! Mike! Larry! Pat! Who's waiting at this table?"

"Hickey!" cried a dozen voices.

"Hickey!" said Shanley scornfully.

"Ask the commissioner if he'll have some celery!"

The fire of little Hickey burst all bounds. Facing the boss with a purple face, he replied hoarsely:

"Ask him yourself and go to h—!"

It took every effort of strength and diplomacy on the part of the convulsed commissioner and his secretary to save the badgered Hickey twice—first his life and second his job.—New York World.

Had a Relapse.

A negro who suffered severe burns upon the face by accident in performance of his work was treated by a physician, who, in default of other material, swathed his features in absorbent cotton. The patient soon felt better and proceeded to roll and light a cigarette, whereupon the cotton caught fire, and the second conflagration was worse than the first. The physician was called in again and gave aid to the injured. "Say, boss," exclaimed the negro, "don't go and tell about this unfortunate accident. Jes' say I had a relapse."

Eloquent Silence.

Two golfers at Pinehurst, one of them an amateur who had been runner-up in several big tournaments, were starting out, and a friend from Chicago, who was leaving that afternoon and had packed his clubs, started to walk around with them.

"You can go," said the classy amateur, "if you won't talk. You've got to keep quiet."

"They started. The tournament player hooked his drive into the high grass off the first tee. Had a lot of trouble.

Wretched Stomach.

Rid it of Gas, Sourness and Fermentation in Five Minutes, with Miao-na Stomach Tablets.

Frank Kimball, proprietor of the Noyes Drug Store Sells Them and Guarantees Them.

You eat food to keep yourself alive. When you put food into a healthy stomach it is the duty of that stomach to extract from the food all of its nutritious matter.

This nutritious matter is passed along to the blood, and in turn is carried to and supplies life to every part of the body.

If your stomach is upset it does not extract enough nourishment to supply the wants of the body, and naturally diseased develops wherever the body is weakest.

Stomach trouble or indigestion causes dizziness, biliousness, nervousness, weak eyes, sick headaches, sleeplessness, nightmare, waterbrash, bleaching of hair, food, foul breath, despondency, constipation and even loss of energy and memory.

For any stomach trouble, no matter how bad Frank Kimball, proprietor of the Noyes Drug Store, sells and guarantees Miao-na stomach tablets to give quick relief and permanent cure, or money back.

A large box costs but 50 cents at Noyes Drug Store and druggists everywhere. They are small and easily swallowed, and used regularly they will surely cure indigestion.

It is estimated Maine has 59,280 farms with the value of the products $121,470,904.

A Boy Who Knew How.

An American boy, nineteen years of age, once found himself in London, where he was under the necessity of earning his bread. He was not like many young men of these days, who are "willing to do anything" because they know how to do something; but he had learned how to do something, and knew just where to go to find something to do; so he went straight to a printing office and inquired if help were needed.

"Where are you from?" inquired the foreman.

"America," was the answer.

"Ah," said the foreman, "from America, seeking employment as a printer. Well, do you really understand the art of printing? Can you set type?"

The young man stepped to one of the cases and in a brief space set up this passage from the first chapter of Job:

"Nathaniel said unto him, can any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip said unto him, come and see."

It was done quickly, so accurately, and administered a delicate proof so appropriate and powerful, that it at once gave him influence and standing with all the office. He worked diligently at his trade, refused to drink beer or any kind of strong drink, saved his money, returned to America, became a printer, publisher, author, post-master-general, member of Congress, signer of the Declaration of Independence, ambassador to royal courts and finally died in Philadelphia at the age of eighty-four. There are more than one hundred and fifty counties, towns and villages in America named after this same printer boy, Benjamin Franklin.

WIFE GOT TIE TOP ADVICE.

"My wife wanted me to take our boy to the doctor to cure an ugly boil," writes Dr. Frankel, of Stroud, Okla.

"I said 'Buckley's Arnica Salve on it.' She did so, and it cured the boil in a short time." Quickest healer of Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Corns, Bruises, Sprains, Swellings. Best Pile cure on earth. Try it. Only 25c at The Noyes Drug Store.

Premium Award on Turkeys.

In our report of premiums awarded at the recent show of the West Oxford exhibition we accidentally omitted some of the premiums on the turkeys:

Wm. N. Jackson, Paris, got three premiums for best Maine grown turkeys, 2 of $1 each and 1 of $3 and on the regular premium offered by the Association he got first on best tom and hen, $1 each, also 3d on same of 50 cents each and 3d, 4th and 8th awards of ribbon.

Surely these are awards worth having and Mr. Jackson has re-established the name of that part of Paris in which he lives as "Turkey Hill." For some years past it was called "Red Hill," but now he says it can be rightfully called by the old name.

Colors For Mourning.

We are accustomed to think of mourning as necessarily black, though we know that the Chinese wear white instead. But there are other colors as well worn for the purpose of expressing grief for the dead.

The Kings of France, for instance, used to wear purple and something scarlet. Purple is also the mourning color for cardinals.

In Egypt and Burma yellow is worn; probably to signify the "ere and yellow leaf" of hope. Widows' caps among the peasants of Brittany are also yellow.

In Turkey violet is the regular color of mourning, and deep blue is the Bohemian color. Brown is an appropriate color, when we think of earth and ashes.

Light brown is worn in Persia and grayish brown in Ethiopia and Abyssinia. Really, looking them all over, doesn't one see the saddest and most hopeless shades of all? It ought to mark us Americans and Europeans as the least civilized of peoples.

OWES HER HEALTH

To Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Scottville, Mich.—"I want to tell you how much good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Sanative Wash have done me. I live on a farm and have worked very hard. I am forty-five years old, and am the mother of thirteen children. Many people think it strange that I am not broken down with hard work and the care of my family, but I tell them of my good friend, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and that there will be no backache and bearing down pains for them if they will take it as I have. I am scarcely ever without it in the house.
"I will say also that I think there is no better medicine to be found, for young girls to build them up and make them strong and well. My eldest daughter has taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for painful periods and irregularity, and it has always helped her.
"I am always ready and willing to speak a good word for the Lydia E.
Pinkham's Remedies. I tell every one I meet that I owe my health and happiness to these wonderful medicines."
—Mrs. J. G. JOHNSON, Scottville, Mich., R.F.D. 3.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and to-day holds the record for the largest number of actual cures of female diseases.

Eliminating Waste.
It seems to me that the elimination of waste is nearly impossible in households where there are numerous servants; at least, I have found it so with only one, and the waste rises in geometrical progression with the number employed. I have now been doing my own cooking for nearly a year, and I feed my family twice as well on about two-thirds the cost. A large part of the saving comes in the economical use of meat that a cook would give to the dog.

Then I depend a good deal on soups, which I invent to suit my larder. A few cold baked beans, with a little tomato and a bit of meat on a bone, or a little left-over gravy, make a soup that will last for a couple of hours and will taste just as good as the original. I have now been doing my own cooking for nearly a year, and I feed my family twice as well on about two-thirds the cost. A large part of the saving comes in the economical use
of meat that a cook would give to the
dog.

Most people do not understand how different a soup is when it has simmered a good many hours. The soup that has been boiled fast a couple of hours will taste flat and uninteresting, whereas the same soup five hours later will have such a delicious blend of flavors that you know it is the real thing, without being able to distinguish the ingredients. Again it is the time that counts.
Cooks waste the coffee and tea horribly. Mix the coffee with cold water the night before with a eggshell, and bring it to a boil in the morning, and you do not need a great deal for a good cup of coffee. The tea in the kitchen is piled into the teapot and thrown out with but little of the goodness extracted.
Another fruitful waste is in the coal.
I use less than half as much as any girl I ever had, and my stove bakes better.
I never complain of the draft, as she does or did after burning all the goodness out of her coal in the first hour after lighting.
There is no way that I know of to eliminate waste except by looking after it day by day.

Peter Nicola, Governor of Fenobscots.
With just as much pomp and flourish as attended the inauguration of the Governor of Maine, and many times more brilliance of color and glit of tinsel, the noblest men of the Tarratine or Fenobscot tribe of Indians celebrated the week with feasting and dancing the inauguration of Big Chief Peter Nicola as Governor of the tribe.
Nearly every member of the tribe attended the ball, which was held in the hall belonging to the tribe. Music was furnished by the Indian orchestra and the dancers wore in full native regalia, their bright tints making the scene both picturesque, and for its historic significance, very interesting.
Governor Nicola and his wife led the grand march, and were followed by the other dignitaries of their tribe with their ladies in more or less accurate order of position, the retiring officials being recognized as in the front rank of Indian society. An interesting feature was the review of the old-time dances, such as the war dance, the snake dance, the mimic and other dances.
Years ago the elections on Indian Island, 12 miles above Bangor, where the tribe has its principal village, were exciting events, often attended with scenes of violence and bloodshed, for a Tarratine politician is more inclined to emphasize his arguments with clubs than with honeyed speech. That has all passed now, however, a happy ac-cumbent having been made, and the suggestion of the two divisions of the tribe, known as the "Old Party" and the "New Party," or the conservatives and liberals, respectively, take turns in governing the settlement.
Governor Nicola is of the New Party, and he is an able man in many ways.
He is a great hunter, fisherman and guide, knows how to build graceful trances and weave wonderful baskets, and is something of a farmer and a natural politician. He has lived in Rangeley for several summers and run a store where he has had on sale the vari-

MOCK BEEFSTEAK.

How to Make and Serve the Dish in Attractive Ways.

In these days of high prices a mock beefsteak is an acceptable substitute for the genuine one. The housekeeper should try molding her "Hamburg steak" into less commonplace forms.
Often the beef is molded somewhat like an ordinary beefsteak. The platter should be prettily garnished with parsley and lemon, or it may be decorated after the manner of a "planked" steak, with a border of mashed potatoe and a dust enough baked tomatoes or stuffed green peppers to serve one to each person at the table.

Another appropriate platter decoration is easily accomplished by heaping little piles of parcolored vegetables at intervals around the mock beef-steak. Potato balls, sliced carrots and string beans are a favorite combination of color and transform the humble "Hamburg steak" into quite a festive dish.

Another way is to have the chopped beef shaped into the form of lamb chops, each decorated with a "frill" of tissue paper fastened to a toothpick.
These may be made by the children of the household in the evenings, and as they cost nothing and give a decided air of daintiness to the simplest dish they are well worth while. Often these little imitation chops are arranged to stand on a bed of parsley and rest against a pretty bowl filled with steamed tomato. A spoonful of the tomato should be served with each portion. These little chops of beef may rest on a bed of mashed potatoes if preferred, or it is a pretty idea to place a baked potato between each chop just before serving, gently open each potato and place a piece of butter in the opening.

Another attractive way of serving the same dish is to place these little chops in an overlapping row on the platter, each chop decorated as before with its little paper frill. Tomato sauce or slices of broiled fresh tomato may decorate the edge of the platter.—

A DOUBLE CHIN.

How to Get Rid of One by Paying Attention to Diet and Exercise.

If you have a double chin you must give up the wearing of tight collars, as they never fail to give one the baggy pouch of the confirmed double chin.
See to it that your stocks are loose and not very-high. If your neck is not too thin for the fashion make a practice of wearing the collarless dresses so popular now. They will give your throat an opportunity to bend and turn, and in this way the muscles get the needed exercise. Tight high collars hold the throat as in a vise, and the muscles underneath the chin become flabby.
Eating between meals and late at night is sure to cause a double chin and very often a triple chin. If you eat lobster a la Newburg or perhaps a sweet just before retiring you will be sure to wake up next morning with an extra layer of flesh under your pretty chin.

A strenuous exercise warranted to reduce chins is as follows: Stand erect in front of your mirror, put a hand on either hip and take a deep breath, filling the lungs to the fullest extent.
Hold the breath, and hit your extra chin ten sharp blows with the back of your hand. Strike hard enough to make the tears come to your eyes.
Now exhale. Once more inhale and slap the unwanted folds of flesh with your left hand. If you will practice this exercise for five minutes every morning the extra chin will melt away in a very short space of time.—New Idea Woman's Magazine For June.

How to Keep Cut Flowers.

Choose flowers that are not quite fully out and cut them early in the morning with long stems. Arrange them not too close together in a vase deep enough to immerse two-thirds of the stems. By previously putting some pieces of charcoal in the vase the water can be kept sweet, but in any case it should be changed every five or six days. Keep the vase always full of water. Keep the flowers in a cool but not too drafty place. Certain flowers do much better if a small portion of the stem is cut off, especially if they have been carried a long way, and a certain number are better for slicing the stems up so as to let them absorb the water more easily. This is especially so with flowers that are apt to go off quickly, like the hellebores.—

The Worst to Come.

"I love you, dear, but I am green and rattled, and I don't know how to propose."
"That's all right, honey. You're through with me. All you've got to do now is to ask papa."—Cleveland Leader.
